

The existence of friends and acquaintances who were arrested were cut out of photographs, for fear of association.

Friday, November 3

War, Revolution and Jewish Life A Symposium on the Blavatnik Archives

King Library 320, 3:00-5:00pm

In conjunction with the exhibit in the King Library Lobby and Special Collections on the 3rd Floor, an afternoon symposium will explore the Blavatnik Archive materials, featuring three leading scholars of Jewish history who will present on their current research.

Jeffrey Veidlinger, University of Michigan

A Kind of Victory? The Return of Jews to Small-Town Ukraine

Anna Shternshis, University of Toronto

And Then I killed Him: Red Army Soldiers Speak of the End of the Holocaust

Eugene Avrutin, University of Illinois

A Tale of Two Murders: The Velizh and Beilis Blood Libel Cases

A reception will precede the symposium and a Shabbat dinner, hosted by Hillel at Miami, will follow.

Shabbat Dinner at Hillel

11 East Walnut Street, 6:30pm
(this is preceded by a 6:00 service)
Open to the public but space is limited.
RSVP to admin@muhillel.org

MIAMI UNIVERSITY

THE HAVIGHURST CENTER
for Russian & Post-Soviet Studies