OVERVIEW OF THE COLLECTION

Title:	Cradle of Coaches - Ted Patterson Collection
Creator:	Ted Patterson
Dates:	1956 – 1978
Media:	Magnetic media, manuscripts, publications
Quantity:	0.5 cubic feet
Location:	Closed stacks

COLLECTION SUMMARY

The Ted Patterson Collection forms a portion of the Cradle of Coaches Archive and includes recorded interviews; program scripts; news clippings; and manuscripts associated with Miami University Athletics or members of the Cradle of Coaches. Manuscripts and memorabilia pertaining to Jay Coleville comprise a large percentage of this collection.

All items are original, except for some digitized materials which have been transferred from their original media and which remain a part of this collection. Items in this collection are organized chronologically by section. Section VI contains original folders, whose content may not necessarily correspond to the labeling. These inconsistencies existed in the materials upon delivery from the donor and have been retained for the integrity of the collection.

PROVENANCE OF THE COLLECTION

The collection was donated to the Walter Havighurst Special Collections by Ted Patterson, Miami University alumnus ('68), radio host, and national sportscaster.

BIOGRAPHICAL INFORMATION

Ted Patterson is a native Ohioan and a graduate of the University of Dayton ('66), with an advanced degree from Miami University ('68).

He began his broadcasting career while attending college in Dayton at a local radio station, WVUD-FM. A later association was with WPOC-FM in Baltimore. Over his long career, Patterson has handled the roles of color commentator, producer, writer, coordinator, and host of numerous radio programs including Curt Gowdy's Inside Sports at NBC.

Patterson has been involved in nearly all professional sports at one time or another. He is noted for his commentary for the Baltimore Orioles (baseball), the Baltimore Blast/Spirit (soccer), Washington Senators (baseball), Cleveland Cavaliers (basketball), and Cleveland Crusaders (hockey). Patterson has also been involved with collegiate sports, notably Towson University, U.S. Naval Academy, and Armed Forces Radio. He is a three-time winner of Maryland Sportscaster of the Year, six-time winner of the Chesapeake Associated Press Sportscaster of the Year, and recipient of the Eclipse Award, presented by the thoroughbred racing industry.

In addition to his radio work, Patterson has published four books about sports.

SCOPE AND CONTENTS OF THE COLLECTION

This collection pertains to the Miami University Cradle of Coaches and is a subsection of a larger collection of sports broadcasts and memorabilia donated by Ted Patterson. Several of the items contained herein provide images and news clippings of Cradle members and events not included elsewhere in the Walter Havighurst Cradle of Coaches collection. A large portion of this collection is devoted to the career of Jay Colville (MU Athletic trainer 1924-70, and personal friend of the donor).
